OLD IRISH WHISKY,

THE immense success which has attended the introduction of their unrivalled blend of Scotch Whisky (Old Glenlivet) has induced TREACHER & Co. to apply their long and practical knowledge of this branch of the Company's business to the production of a blend of the finest IRISH WHISKY, which would meet with the approval of consumers of the article.

After lengthened experiments with the finest matured Spirits from the best known Distilleries in Ireland, the Management have succeeded in producing a blend which they confidently assert to be unequalled by any other offering in India.

It is a well known fact that a large portion of the Whisky offered as Irish is known to the trade as "silent spirit," which is commonly distilled from refuse, such as spoiled grain, rotten potatoes, and other abominations.

TREACHER & Co. guarantee that this blend is made from pure malt spirit only, distilled from the finest grain or malt, is pure, mild, and agreeable and entirely free from essential oils and other impurities.

CARRE'S IMPROVED ICE-MACHINE,

WITH THE NEW CONGELATOR FOR PRODUCING BLOCK ICE, TO BE HAD ONLY FROM

S. ROSE & CO., BOMBAY.

ICE IN FOUR MINUTES.

CARRE'S PNEUMATIC ICE-MACHINE,

WITH IMPROVED AIR AND CONGELATOR ATTACHED.

The only machine suitable for Domestic use; Cheap, Cleanly, and Easy to work; always ready for use, and never gets out of order.

Full particulars of the New Congelator can be had on application to S. Rose & Co.

Personal inspection of the new apparatus and its accessories is requested, and full practical instructions for using the Machine will be given to the agents or to the servants of purchasers.

The mode of producing Ice is by means of a Pneumatic Machine; the air in the Decanter or Vase is exhausted by the action of the air-pump, and the moisture arising from rapid evaporation, absorbed by the Sulphuric Acid contained in the Cylinder B, and intense cold in the Decanter or Vase, is the result of reducing the water to Ice.

For use in Up-country Stations, Messes, Hotels, Hospitals, and on board Ship, these Machines will be found invaluable; and their portability renders them most serviceable for Camp use. Within fifteen minutes the Machine can be fitted together, charged with acid, and the water a 85 deg. Fahrenheit can be reduced to freezing point.

An illustrated Pamphlet, containing full directions for use, accompanies each Machine.

Apparatus for operating on one DECANTER or VASE with NEW CONGELATOR and ACCESSORIES, complete. Net Cash Rs. 190.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WILSON'S GREAT WORLD CIRCUS.

"The history of the world," says Carlyle, "is the biography of great men"—of politicians, military strategists, authors, painters, and, I take leave to add, public performers. There was a time, and that not long ago, when the profession of theatrical performers was abhorrenced, was held in utter disrepute, because of the many and obvious imperfections and adverse influences which surrounded it; but by a gradual process of refinement, by the elimination from it of everything that tended to pruriency of thought or action, it has at last secured for itself the respect of all classes, and has come to be recognised by those competent to guide public opinion as a powerful factor in the education of mankind. To the men who have brought about this reform, as widespread as it is radical, some share of "great-ness" may surely be conceded. If they have achieved no starting deed of daring, if they have not worked up to any coup d'état which, like the treaty of Berlin, "made all the world wonder," their efforts in the cause of morality and popular amusement are not the less striking because of their unpretending character.

The functions of the Lord Chamberlain of England in connection with the stage, and the frequency with which His Lordship has of late exercised the pruning-knife on theatrical productions, shew us that we have not yet reached the end of all improvement in this direction. But in the words of the great American poet—

> We have not wings, we cannot soar;
> But we have feet to scale and climb,
> By slow degrees, by more and more.

And as Anglo-Indian stage, pure and uncefiled, may be looked for even by those who believe that the past was the good old time. This improvement lies in the hands of the public: the patronage they accord different forms of amusement is the pivot on which everything turns. No professional can respect himself or benefit the more for enacting a role in which questionable double entendres and lewdness prevail. Protest nais would rain in repute if they refused to take part in all such exhibitions; and if from the manager to the humble call or property-boy they shaped their lives in accordance with the teachings of morality and good taste, the public would appreciate and esteem all the more those who had won their respect.

Yet, when the stage was held of very poor account, and during times long anterior to modern entertainments such as those with which I am connected flourished and were patronised by the men of "light and leading," the dames of the high-est fashion, and the happy children of all countries. The glowing accounts which have come down to us from ancient times testify to the appreciation in which Circuses were held in Rome and Greece, in Spain and India. The ordinary athletic training of the Roman youths included, as we know, a course at the state gymnasiums, where they cultivated the mens sana in corpore sano under the guidance of Socrates; the Athenian young men and maidens freely competed together in trials of skill and strength; in Spain the bull-fights and the prowess of the matadors have to this day a historical interest; while in India the art of wrestling has not yet been forgotten. The results of these several forms of athletics have led us to think that "there were giants in those days;" the comparative di-use into which they have fallen has much to do with the reproach of a degenerate manhood we now hear so much about. It is true that what were reckoned the manly and classical sports of ancient days were too often degraded by a cruel disregard for the feelings of the lower creation, and sometimes of man himself. This callousness has happily disappeared in our day, and while the feats performed in modern Circuses would probably make the Cæsars open their eyes, if they revisited the nether world, everything is accomplished by careful training and the dexterity that comes from practice rather than by coercion and brute force.

For the past thirty years, during which I have been catering for the public in all parts of the habitable globe, I have, while seeking to restore the Circus to its prestine glory, applied myself sedulously to divest my entertainment of all that might be considered objectionable by the most sensative person. I do not propose to provide an entertainment for any section of the community, but for all, whatever may be their religious convictions. My Circus is the best travelling exhibition of its class, without exception in the world. It admits of no comparison with any other. The performers are the pick of the profession, while my large stud of educated horses has, by careful training and kindness, arrived at a state of perfection which it would be impossible to surpass—if it might ever be equalled. As "good wine needs no bush," so our entertainment does not require the aid of factitious props to support it in the opinion of the public. Our name is a household word, and the mere announcement of our arrival in a town is sufficient to bring eager crowds, bent on enjoyment, to

FAREWELL PERFORMANCES.
THIS WEEK! THIS WEEK!!

The management have the pleasure to announce that they have, at enormous expense, and with a de-te mination to out do all their former efforts produced the fairy spectacle of

CINDERELLA.

THIS TUESDAY EVENING.

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN INDIA.

CINDERELLA, OR THE

which for grandeur and gorgeous wardrope, carriages, &c., will astonish and please all who pay us a visit, during

OUR FAREWELL NIGHTS IN BOMBAY.

This BEAUTIFUL FAIRY SPECTACLE will be produced by fifty children born and brought up in this city, and will be presented in the most realistic manner, full attention being given to every detail.

The management have no wish to depreciate the efforts and performances of rival places of amusement but at the same time, they would warn the public not to confound the spectacle of Cinderella as it will be produced at the Circus with the burlesque of Cinderella which was put on the boards at the "Gaiety."

The management of that theatre made the grave mistake of forcing the production of one of the finest burlesques at a few hours' notice—whether or not with the intention of discounting the success of the spectacle of Cinderella, then in rehearsal at the Circus, is not known. But the result of this ill-considered and hasty experiment proved a complete fiasco and is therefore on a par in quality, such as it must have been when as a pain ul for the actors to take part in or for the public to witness. The spectacle of Cinderella is something entirely new. The public have seen nothing like it before—certainly nothing has been produced with the care and at the expense which has been under gone in the present instance.

There was once a rich lady and gentleman, who lived together very happily with their only daughter, who was applauded by everybody for her sweetness of disposition. But unfortunately for the child, the poor lady died while she was very young, and her husband was so very, very sad, that he almost broke his heart.

He, however, for the sake of his dear little girl, determined on marrying again. The lady he married had two daughters of her own, and so he hoped that she would have proved a kind mother to his little darling. But he was deceived. No sooner had he married, than the lady became cruel and tyrannical. She paid no attention to her husband, and treated his sweet little girl with great harshness. The gentleman, who loved his daughter very dearly, remonstrated against the cruelty of her behaviour, but it only made her worse; and unable to control her violence, he fell into low spirits, which brought him to an early grave. The two daughters, too, were naughty, unkind and selfish girls, and mocked their poor little half-sister, and forced her to undergo all the drudgery of a servant's work. She had to scrub the floor, wash the dishes, clean the grates, sit in the kitchen, and sift the cinders, and was for this nicknamed Cinderella. Poor Cinderella had now a sad time of it for her two sisters who were very plain, were jealous of her, because, even in her poor ragged clothes, she was far more beautiful than they when dressed out in all their showy finery.

It happened that a ball, to last two evenings, was given by the King's son, and Cinderella's sisters, who were very grand people in their family, were invited. But Cinderella was forced to stay at home in her chimney corner, while they were enjoying themselves at the ball. As soon as they had departed, the poor girl said, "Oh! how I wish, I wish—" But what do you wish, dear?" said her godmother, who at that moment came in. "You wish, to go to the Prince's ball, now, don't you?" Cinderella at once confessed the truth. "Well, well," said her godmother, "and so you shall, my darling, if you continue to be a good girl."

So Cinderella's godmother, who was a fairy, at once, by a stroke of her wand, transformed a pumpkin into a most splendid carriage, six mice into horses, a rat into a well-dressed coachman and four lizards into four of the handsomest footmen ever seen.

Cinderella was fairly lost with wonder, when her godmother again waved her wand, and she became dressed in the most beautiful clothes, ornamented with the most costly and the rarest jewels in the whole world. Oh! how lovely Cinderella thought she looked, when she saw, in her sister's looking glass, the wonderful change the fairy had made in her! Her godmother also gave her two little glass slipps, and told her on no account to stay at the ball later than twelve o'clock; for should she remain a single moment after, her carriage, horses, and servants would again become a pumpkin, six mice, a rat, and four lizards, and she, too, would be changed into her former self. Cinderella promised to be very punctual, and started off in her carriage to the ball.

When Cinderella arrived, the King's son came down to welcome her as the unknown Princess, and conducted her to the ball room, where the sisters had already arrived. She was very much admired by everybody, and by-and-by the Prince became her partner. Cinderella danced so gracefully, that every one was enchanted with her still more, and all agreed in thinking her the most accomplished lady they had ever seen. Her two haughty sisters alone, who of course had not the slightest notion that the beautiful Princess was the despised Cinderella, were envious at the admiration lavished upon the stranger, while they were quite overlooked. When, however, supper was announced, the Prince escorted her to the table. She took her seat near to her sisters and paid them so many kind attentions, that they became quite delighted with her.

Exactly at a quarter to twelve, Cinderella curtsied to the company and ran off, although the Prince pressed her to remain. The next night Cinderella again went to the ball, when she appeared, if possible, still more lovely than before. But this time she became so absorbed in the pleasures of the evening, that she forgot how quickly the time passed. All at once the clock struck twelve, and Cinderella ran from the palace in such haste that she lost one of her glass slippers on the stairs.

The Prince was distracted when he missed from his side the beautiful Princess he had expected to dance with two of his nobles, ran down to the door of the palace, to see if Cinderella had indeed left. But no trace of her could anywhere be found, except the little glass slipper that she had lost, and which the King's son had picked up, and now treasured with the greatest care.

After a few days, the Prince proclaimed, by sound of trumpet, that he would marry the lady whose foot the little glass slipper should exactly fit.

All the ladies of the Court anxiously tried on the slipper first, but it was always too small! too small! Then the Prince ordered the heralds to go to all the ladies of his dominions, and it being brought to the two sisters, each tried very hard to squeeze a foot into it, but all to no purpose. "Pray, may I be allowed to try it on?" asked Cinderella, who was present. The two sisters burst out in laughter; but the officers, seeing that Cinderella was very beautiful, at once gave consent. She then sat on a chair, and put her foot with the greatest ease. To their utter astonishment they found it fitted her to perfection, and to the still greater astonishment of her unkind sisters, Cinderella now produced the fellow slipper from her pocket, which she had kept, and now put on. At that moment her fairy godmother appeared, waved her wand, and Cinderella again became dressed as the lovely Princess the King's son was so hoping to find.

The joyful the message was unbounded. They conducted Cinderella to the Prince, who was so very glad to see her again, that he solicited her hand in marriage; and Cinderella, giving her consent, in a few days he publicly made her his bride

There were very great rejoicings at Court, for Cinderella, who was as amiable as she was beautiful, was beloved by everybody. Although her sisters had been cruel to her she treated them with the utmost kindness and gave them apartments in the palace, where they afterwards lived in the greatest splendour.

The following are some of the distinguished characters which will be impersonated:—

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 19, 1880.

THERE were no changes of any importance in the Home markets on Saturday, in addition to those to which we have already referred.

The Return of the Bank of Bombay, dated the 17th inst., shows the following changes compared with that of last week, viz.:—

Public Deposits at Head Office.....	Dec.	Rs.	4,62,809
Do. Branches	Dec.	,,	3,99,954
Other Deposits.....	Dec.	,,	16,44,636
Government Securities	Inc.	,,	1,78,279
Cash Credits on Government Paper....	Dec.	,,	52 389
Loans on Govt. Paper	Inc.	,,	7,09 996
Bills Discounted.....	Dec.	,,	11,63,679
Cash Balance	Dec.	,,	20,59,233

Notwithstanding a slight falling off in the trade demand, the Cash Balance, it will be observed, is reduced by 20½ lacs, owing to the withdrawals of Deposits.

EXCHANGE opened this morning with great firmness at a general advance of 1-32d. per rupee, and the Banks generally have held off as buyers during the day. Rates from Calcutta having been telegraphed 1-32d. to 1-16th below those ruling here, however, our market assumed a quieter tone, and the few Mercantile Bills offering could be sold in some cases at 1-16th per rupee below the rates of the morning. The rate for Bank Paper has been better maintained, as the demand for it is still very slack. Our closing quotations are:—

Bank Bills, on demand			1s. 7 31-32d. per Re.
Do.	3 months' sight		1s. 8 3-32d. ,,
Credits,	3 do.	.....	1s. 8 3-16d. ,,

On Calcutta, rates are unaltered at 99 15-16 for demand and 99 for 60 days' sight bills.

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—The market has been steady to-day with buyers of Fours at Rs. 95½ and Fours-and-a-half at Rs. 102 5-16, but the business transacted has not been large.

SHARES.—Bank shares are unchanged at Saturday's rates. In Land Companies the only quotable alteration is a decline of Rs. 5 per shares in Colaba. In Miscellaneous shares Bombay Burmahs are Rs. 10 higher, being now quoted at Rs. 1,900. Among Spinning and Weaving Companies the shares of the Khandeish have declined Rs. 20, and Khatao Maconjees have advanced Rs. 10, Manockjee Petits Rs. 5, Morarjee Goculdass Rs. 20, Orientals Rs. 10, and Sholapore Mills Rs. 20.

COTTON.—There has been a steadier feeling in the market to-day, and sellers have shown little disposition to realize their stocks excepting at an advance of Re. 1 to Rs. 2 per candy. For ready Machine-Ginned Broach an advance of Rs. 2 per candy on Saturday's rates is demanded at the close, but the price must be considered nominal, as no sales have been reported during the day at that figure, and in the morning business was done at Rs. 2 less. Our closing quotations are:—

,, ,, ...	,,	240	,, May dely.
,, Dhollera	,,	228	,, Ready.

Good Oomrawuttee	,,	225	,, Ready.

LINSEED.—The market keeps steady at Rs. 6 4 to Rs. 6 6 per cwt. according to quality.

RAPESEED is quite neglected. The nominal quotation for Guzerat being still Rs. 5-12 per cwt.

WHEAT.—Prices are unchanged at Rs. 34 to Rs. 36 per candy for White and Rs. 31 to Rs. 32 for Red.

FREIGHTS are very steady at 42s. 6d. per ton for Liverpool via Canal for this month's loading, and via Cape at 42s. 6d, to 43s. 9d. per ton. For May loading the Plainmeller (-) is reported fixed at 43s. 3d. per ton for Liverpool, and for Marseilles and Genoa the Napies (s) for May loading at 42. 6d. and the Stag (s) for June loading for Marseilles only at 40s. per ton. The rate for Havre is still 45s per ton. For Trieste and Venice business is reported at 53s. 9d. per ton, freight paid here at par.

COALS.—The market is very dull with sellers of Davison's West Hartley at Rs. 18½ and Laird's Welsh Hartley at Rs. 18 per ton alongside, but with no buyers at even 8 annas per ton below these quotations for cargoes close at hand.

PIECE-GOODS.—There is a steady feeling, but there is not very much doing with offices. The off-take from the bazaar, however, continues on about the same scale.

MESSRS. C. MARCKS & CO.,
OF HUMMUM STREET, BOMBAY,
AND
EAST STREET, POONA,

HAVE the pleasure of announcing that MR. A. MENIST, Oculist's Optician, of Amsterdam and London, has APPOINTED them AGENTS for the SALE of his CELEBRATED PEBBLE SPECTACLES, &c., &c.

The reason they have for accepting the Agency is as follows:—

Having tried to procure, regardless of expense, in all the CHIEF TOWNS OF ENGLAND AND ALL LARGE CITIES, Pebbles and Frames equal to those produced by MR. MENIST, AND HAVE TOTALLY FAILED TO APPROACH THEM.

One of the chief essentials in good Spectacles is to place the Pebbles before the eyes in a proper position and at a proper distance according to the particular defect of sight being treated Ill-made and loosely jointed frames, by causing a displacement of the Pebbles, entirely alter their focal power, and so injure the eyes, for this reason Mr. Menist makes his frames of Gold and Silver only, which have been found by experience the best adapted metals for the purpose, possessing the necessary temper, without being liable to oxydise in use. Steel Frames he does not make, considering that they are not calculated to do justice to his Pebbles, and his object being to secure, as nearly as possible, perfection, not cheapness, though in a climate like India, it is doubtful if there would be any economy in Steel, as it corrodes so quickly and has to be renewed so often, to say nothing of the discomfort and injury to the sight. Aluminium cannot be used, because it stains he skin by contact, leaving a black mark that will not wash out.

His Non-Pressure Eye-glasses are so well made that you may twist the Spring in any direction without breaking it, neither is there the slightest pressure when wearing, nor the least mark remaining when removed.

His 12-LENSE DUCHESSE, all in Alumi nium, are as powerful as Field-Glasses and are all Achromatic.

His Field, Marine, and Opera-Glasses may be used for hours without causing the eye to aches.

Messrs. M. and Co. have made arrangement to receive their patients in a PRIVATE ROOM, it being hardly possible to test and suit the eye sight without such convenience. Mr. Menist has left them instruments, which enables them to test each eye separately, it being frequently the case that one eye requires a different accommodation to the other, as well in magnifying as diminishing powers. Messrs. M. and Co, have received valuable information from Mr. Menist, by which to suit the eyesight.

Pamphlets can be had on application.

LATEST INTELLIGENCE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

ALLEGED THEFT OF A RS. 1,000 CURRENCY NOTE.

KURRACHEE, APRIL 19.

A Frenchman, named Nadal, who was brought under arrest from Ruk, will be sent on Wednesday to Bombay. The charge against him will be investigated by the Magistrate at Bandora. It appears that a currency note for 1,000 rupees was presented at the Delhi Bank by a Bunia merchant, the payment of which had been stopped owing to its having been lost in Bombay. He said he got it from a merchant at Sukkur, named Tulsidass, who again declared he obtained it from Manockjee, the keeper of the Rest-House at Sukkur, who in his turn stated he got it from Monsieur Nadal, to change, to pay himself for some stores Nadal had purchased of him on the 13th November last, on leaving Sukkur for Ruk to join the Ruk-Sibi line of railway. Manockjee further stated that he changed the note at the shop of Limjee, a shop-keeper at Sukkur, but this Limjee denies. Nadal admits he bought stores of Manockjee in December last, but that he paid him in cash.

H. M.'s GUN-BOAT READY, 492 tons, Commander H. R. Edward, arrived in Bombay harbour yesterday from Muscat, which port she left on the 13th instant. H.M. S. Beacon arrived at Muscat on the 11th April.

A TELEGRAM to London was despatched, states a Shanghai paper, by a firm here on Friday at 12-30 p.m. (through the Great Northern Telegraph Company), and an answer was received in the evening at 10-45. Quick work, indeed.

CONSEQUENT on the departure of the Lieut.-Governor N. W. P. and Commissioner Oudh, to Naini Tal, all urgent communications and telegrams should be addressed to Naini Tal, and all ordinary communication to the head-office at Allahabad.

ACCORDING to the Daily Press the Chinese community in Hongkong are contributing most generously to the Irish Relief Fund. One firm has subscribed $1,500, another $1,000, and several $500. The total subscriptions have amounted to about $8,000.

THE finding of the Marine Court of Enquiry held at Singapore into the loss of the British ship Gwalia, Captain Thomas Owens, laden with coal for this port, wrecked on Crescent shoal, Carimata Straits, on the 15 h February, acquits the captain and officers of all blame.

THE news from China continues of a warlike character as regards relations with Russia. The Bogue Forts near Canton are being armed with 10 and 15 ton guns, and the Chinese fleet are being concentrated at Tientsin. The differences with Japan appear to have been made up for the time being.

THE answer of Sir Michael Hicks-Beach to the Galle memorialists is unfavourable. The Secretary of State cannot see his way to spend money on the improvement of Galle harbour in view of the large outlay sanctioned to make Colombo a port suited for mail as well as commercial purposes.

WE now learn that at a meeting of the members of the Shanghai Club held on Friday evening the previous decision was reversed; and that it was decided by a crushing majority (133 against 68) not to allow billiard playing on Sundays. The North China Herald devotes a long leader to the subject, defending the practice.

THE following is a summary of crop and weather reports of the N. W. P. and Oudh, for the week ending the 14th instant:—Weather unusually warm. Westerly winds begun. Harvest nearly completed. Early sowings begun in Allahabad. Prices falling in Jhansi and Meerut. Sporadic cholera reported from Benares, Gorakhpur, Allahabad, Lucknow, Fyzabad, and Partabgarh. Slight small-pox in Allahabad, and fever in Agra; otherwise health good.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Indian Daily News writes from Camp Piphima, under date the 5th instant:—"As the Nagas have surrendered and we occupied their strongholds or 'chekkas' on the 28th, and are now busy dismantling it, the war is virtually at an end, and I hope we shall be shortly returning to our stations. The 'White Chief' returns immediately, leaving a force of 800 men to occupy the hills, where the politicals remain for a time to settle the future administration of the country."

The North China Herald states that grave rumours were circulated in the Settlement yesterday to the effect that affairs in the North had assumed a most serious aspect—an unknown number of foreigners or natives had been massacred, and the German Minister at Peking had hauled down his flag and left the capital, but that the officers of the steamer Haesshin, which arrived last night from Tientsin, were in utter ignorance of either rumour. They report that all was quiet when they left Tientsin.

THE Englishman says that arrangements have been made for the troopships during the next relief season to proceed direct to Kurrachee, and there to disembark their troops. "All know that Kurrachee is the port of the future, and all will consequently feel tenderly for the inevitable destiny that awaits the city which, in a proud but ungrammatical sentence, boasts that she is Urbs prima in Indis." When the Kurrachee harbour is as accessible, as spacious and as safe as the Bombay harbour—then Kurrachee may become Urbs secunda in Indis.

A GENERAL meeting was held in the Exchange on the 2nd instant at Singapore for the purpose of considering what steps should be taken with the object of assisting the Irish Relief Funds at home. The meeting was well attended, and the Chief Justice, Sir Thomas Sidgreaves, occupied the chair. The result was that the following representative committee was appointed to collect subscriptions:—Bishop Gasnier, the Chief Justice, the Colonial Secretary, the Hon. R. Campbell, Messrs. L. J. R. Glass, G. J. Mansfield, Koh Cheang Hoot and Tan Beng Swee.

WE read that "a company is being formed in Paris to supply families in their own homes, with meals warm, well-cooked, and well-served, 30 per cent. cheaper than at restaurants, thus doing away with cooks and kitchens. Subscribers will be supplied once a week with a bill of fare for seven days in advance, and postal cards addressed, so that one will have but to select a certain number of dishes for breakfast and dinner: tickets or cheques for these meals—all at a uniform price, are to be purchased in advance, and the coupons given according to the order, to the waiter in payment." What a blessing it would be if some company would introduce the system in Bombay.

THE Lahore paper says that if we are to believe the registration reports, there are some districts in British Burma where people live to the age of one hundred and eighty or more. This speaks volumes for the climate and inclines one to envy the British Burmans. But in the Punjab there are at least two districts which, according to a like authority, are abnormally healthy, and in which people live abnormally long lives. In Kohat the annual death-rate is only eleven in the thousand; and in Jhang only twelve. Compare these figures with the 65 per mille of Ferozepore, the 55 of Delhi, or the 54 per thousand of Peshawur. The Registrar may possibly feel himself in the position of the negro who failed to count all the pigs, because one or two of them ran about too fast.

THE Amrita Bazar Patrika puts in a word for King Theebaw. Commenting upon the reports in circulation about him, the native journal says:—"The usual practice is to attribute the blackest of crimes to this Prince, and as Theebaw is or was never allowed an opportunity to give explanations, the stories against him, however improbable, gained credence. Considering that another great wish of Lord Lytton's life, besides checkmating Russia in Afghanistan, was to take possession of Burma, and considering the dignified way in which the Government of Burma conducted its dealings with our Government, we are sorry, we cannot place any reliance upon the stories circulated against Theebaw. The usual custom has always been to blacken a Prince before he is dethroned, and we fear, the custom has been followed in his case."

IN our notice of the career of the late Hon'ble W. E. Frere—written at a late hour for the press which, like time and tide, waits for no man—a statement was made in our issue of Friday last to the effect that Mr. Frere was raised to the Bench of the Sudder Court in 1853 on the dismissal from the service of Messrs. W. P. LeGeyt and Gregor Grant, Judges of that Court. Exception was taken by Mr. Willoughby LeGeyt to the word dismissal, which we amended in our next issue by saying that a more correct expression would have been the removal of the gentlemen named from the Sudder Court. The correction should have of course appeared in our Overland edition published the same day, but for the circumstance that the notice in question was printed off before the correction could possibly be made. We will therefore make the correction with pleasure in our next Overland edition.

THE Japan Weekly Mail gives the following itinerary of the Duke of Genoa's vessel:—"The Italian corvet e Vettor Pisani, Captain H.R.H. the Duke of Genoa, left Kobe for Nagasaki, via the Inland Sea, on the morning of the 4th, after a stay of a little over a fortnight, during which time H.R.H. has visited Osaka, Kioto, Nara, and other places of interest in the neighbourhood. The Vettor Pisani will call at several places on the way, touching first at the port of Kasukabe, Shodoshima. She will then proceed to Mihara, Bingo, calling at Miyajima-shima on the way. Then on to Shimonoseki, and thence to Hakodate. She will then proceed to her destination by way of Spex Straits." The Shanghai people are in some excitement in the expectation of a visit, and preparations were made to give him a suitable welcome, a public ball in the Duke's honour, at the Club, being one of the principal features.

THE Indian Railway Service Gazette gives an account of the strangest railway collision ever known, which occurred on the Northern Bengal State Railway lately. The accident happened miles away from water. The train left Sara Ghat at 5 P. M., passing eight stations all right. But a few miles from Chaitangram the engine suddenly jerked, and passed over some solid mass. The driver, who was standing on the right hand side of the footplate with the regulator handle in his left hand, was thrown forward, and a native fireman, who was incautiously sitting on the left hand tender sand-box, kissed the foot board, his face coming in contact with that article. Two wagons also were thrown off the line, which caused a delay of about five hours. So the train, instead of arriving at Saidpore at 5 A. M., did not arrive until 10 A.M. The mystical body at the monster was brought into Saidpore, and on examination was found to be that of an alligator."

DE NEUVILLE'S picture of the defence of Roarke's Drift, writes the Indian correspondent of the Englishman, is excellently painted. The time chosen is sunset. To the left of the picture there is the burning hospital from which the sick men are being taken. In the foreground is Surgeon Major Reynolds kneeling down and binding up Mr. Dalton's wounded arm. In the centre Bromehead is giving some orders to his men who are engaged with the Zulus hand to hand. On the right of the picture the men are lying down firing from behind the ramparts. Chard is standing up loading a rifle, while the Rev. Mr. Smith is gallantly engaged supplying ammunition to the men. The draw backs to the picture are the likeness of Bromehead, which is very indifferent, and Chard, in spite of his small stature, is made at least six feet high. The uniform and accoutrements are quite correct. I have not yet seen Mrs. Butler's picture of the same subject, but it is considered superior to De Neuville's.

THE translation of Colonel Grodekoff's travels receives additional interest from the fact that this enterprizing—and gallant—officer is just now again engaged on survey work in Central Asia. As was noted some little while ago, he was appointed chief of the staff to the General commanding the expedition against the Turcomans. According to the Moscow correspondent of a Berlin paper, Colonel Grodekoff has lately reported that, owing to the difficulties of the road, the march of a large army corps from Merv to Herat would be impossible. Merv, therefore, cannot be said to command Herat, though Herat commands Merv; the inference being that Russia, by annexing Merv, would not benefit so much as England would by taking Herat. Colonel Grodekoff, according to this authority we have quoted, adds that, as a fortress, Herat is not worth much. Its only defences are walls and moats; there are no outworks. The town is commanded by the surrounding heights, and could not be defended against European troops.

THE Indian Mirror is very hard upon our late Governor. The paper says:—"We do not think that Sir Richard Temple's defeat in his candidature for East Worcestershire calls either for commiseration or congratulation. Sir Richard is too wise after the fashion of the world to waste his time and his tears in crying over spilt milk. Having found out to his cost that Conservatism has fallen to a discount in the English political market, at least, for some time to come, we shall not be surprised, if he soon and very opportunely comes to see the error of his ways, and go in for Liberalism, while Liberalism seems likely to be on the sunnyside of the hedge. Sir Richard's powers of adaptability are known to be marvellous. Though by a mistake he avowed himself a Conservative, when Conservatism was in the ascendant, his profession of faith was yet Liberal enough to justify his changing sides, without provoking any very severe criticism on the causes or degree of the change. If Lord Beaconsfield does not buy him up body and soul by raising him to the peerage, we shall not be surprised to see him gliding into the Liberal ranks. Sir Richard Temple may be safely trusted to look after the main chance."

THE Commissariat Frauds at Rangoon still occupy general attention there. The local Gazette states that as regards the action to be taken against the officer, and other Commissariat officials implicated in the bribery by the contractors, one old officer will be allowed to retire from the service, and an officer of high rank will shortly arrive from Madras to decide on the line of action to be adopted towards others. It is thought that they will not be tried by court-martial, but that criminal proceedings will be taken against them in the Magistrate's Court, wherever there is sufficient evidence, and Cohen Brothers kept their books so carefully that they have enabled the investigating committee to see at once the names of all who were in receipt of bribes either of money or "free rations." In the Cohen Insolvency case itself the Recorder has given his judgment. He finds that a sum of nearly Rs. 12,000 was paid by the insolvent firm as bribes in 1878. These payments, however immoral and censurable they were, and although they might lay Cohen open to be punished by the criminal law, were not dealings which would render Cohen liable to be punished under the Insolvent Act, and as the grounds of opposition to J. A. Cohen's discharge had not been made out, the Recorder thought he was entitled to his personal discharge.

NOTES FROM BHAVNAGAR.

A FEW years have made great changes in the appearance of this town; happening to be passing through after a long interval I was much struck by the progress. A large tidal boat basin filled with boats, the iron horse snorting along with a train of wagons, bridges, roads, and large buildings completed and in progress,—these now meet the eye on all sides. Where in days gone by one official visited Bhavnagar in six months, six visit it now in one month.

Mr. Eastwick has been through making notes, and was much pleased report says, both with the Thakore Takhtsinji and the country; doubtless Bhavnagar will receive favorable notice in the big book that is shortly to appear from the pen of this gentleman. The railway has not, however, been making the progress it was anticipated, and there seems to be much disappointment and disgust with the way things have been managed. The location, too, is said to be a wiggle waggle from one end to the other, which none of the Political Officers of the province have approved of, and it is eight or ten miles longer than it need be, a mania for ridge lines dodging along the water shed of the country, having established itself in the State Railway Department in order to avoid a small expenditure in masonry culverts needed to allow of them being taken straight. It is said that a chord line is already talked of here to avoid the detours that have been made. Three or four furtive visits is all that the Engineer-in-Chief has been able to make in the course of twelve months, his deputy has been physically incapacitated from doing even so much, and a Consulting Engineer has never visited it at all; thus all the work has been left to young assistants. The changes in the personnel of the engineering staff, too, have been many and great, involving as this does much that must be unsatisfactory in the outturn; and entente cordiale does not, it is said, exist. It seems a great pity all this, and if ever there is an enquiry made into the high cost of establishments on State Railways, and mismanagement generally, very good evidence would seemingly be obtained on the Bhavnagar and Gondal Line. I have heard much, too, about a cause celebre already noticed in your columns and now under investigation, where it is said the defendants—a number of persons—are being persecuted, not prosecuted, the railway officials going almost to the extent of demanding from Sir Richard Temple the services of Sir Michael Westropp or equally high functionary for its adjudication. Verily, railway officials are becoming a power in the land! Ill will against the line seems rampant amongst the people also, but a more considerate way in which the matter has been taken up and not paid for, wherein, too, they have been deprived of double what was really needed for the purposes of the railway. An official has been penned, I hear, in which the insecurity of the lives of railway officers has been brought to notice from this cause. Surely such as this was never heard of in dear old Kathiawar before! The reason is not far to seek. Officers possessed with an idea or two, chiefly concerning themselves, unacquainted with the province, and possessing a back door entrée to Government House, have been thrown loose upon the country—and lo! and behold, Sir, the result. The political officers and their opinions, I am told, have been steadily ignored. Before leaving this subject let me, however, add, that everyone is not so angry with the management as the above would lead you to suppose. A lucky Bombay contractor has secured the job of transporting all the material required for the railway from England that may be landed at Bombay; he receives Rs. 3-4 per ton and gets the work done for Rs. 1-8! Again, he gets paid by the same effort on the ton of measurement, and pays by the usual method of ton by weight, thereby making no small advantage.

The steam ferry, I was sorry to note, is only a success at high tide, at which time daily it makes two or three trips backwards and forwards with carts and cattle. I am told the chains, which look strong enough, are not as strong as they should be, and that stronger are coming. I cannot see, however, what purpose this ferry can serve until the roads to it are made over the country opposite; this done, it will doubtless then save miles of travel to grain and cotton laden carts from the north.

Among others, who have visited Bhavnagar recently, was the Lord Bishop of Bombay who held a confirmation, and consecrated both a sub-deacon and the cemetery. The former is a gentleman, who, in addition to his arduous occupation of docking travelling allowances, has added that of preacher. I consider it plucky of any layman to undertake such duties, and I reckon this gentleman will have a large field of usefulness before him in his extra self-imposed task. The cemetery viewed from the road seems to be neatly kept. It pleased me to see this, for one cannot be too expressive in India of the belief of a future that animates every Christian heart.

* * "That He who from the dust
Recalls the slumbering clay,
Will surely visit those who trust
His mercy and His power;
Will mark where sleeps their peaceful clay,
And roll, ere long, the stone away!"

In conclusion, Bhavnagar possesses also its own "noisy incarnation of modern utility"—a steamboat. It pays I should think from the number of passengers I saw, but it might be kept cleaner than it is.

BELGAUM DOINGS ON BEHALF OF THE DISTRESS IN IRELAND.

A CORRESPONDENT "Observer," writes from Belgaum as follows under date April 2nd:—The dull monotony of this unusually quiet station has just been once again enlivened by the amateurs of H. M.'s 83rd (County of Dublin) Regiment, giving a three nights' entertainment for the benefit of the distress in Ireland. The characters were coached up by a well known amateur of talent who spared no pains or expense in endeavouring to produce suitable amusement for the occasion, and there can be no doubt that by his indefatigable exertions, the most creditable success ensued, and another laurel has been gained by the non-commissioned officers of the 83rd.

On this occasion the Belgaum community has been treated to a rare success, and that they thoroughly appreciated the performance can be gleaned from the fact that each night the house was literally crowded to excess—so much so that even the shelves and ledges round the inside of the building were taken up and the doors and windows were eagerly sought from the verandahs to catch a glimpse of the various characters who graced the boards with their talent on the auspicious occasion.

The programme commenced with that most laughable and amusing burlesque "Shylock." The money lending Jew was (as usual) the right man in the right place, and so well did he sustain his character that he was simply the life and soul of the stage throughout. Shylock's ride to dinner, accompanied by our old acquaintance "Dinab," was amusement perfected to a T.

The "Jew" and his friends, the "Pump" and the "Horse Trough," were capitally hit off and received deafening applause. The "Duke" was all there, and together with his court was thoroughly applauded, the scene being exceedingly well acted. Bassanio acquitted himself creditably, and left an impression that he will eventually turn out a first class amateur. Lorenzo as usual was excellent, and the female characters deserve much praise for the clever way in which they sustained their parts. The other characters undoubtedly deserve equal praise for their endeavours to amuse, and by naming the above few individually, I by no means desire to leave others out in the cold, as one and all thoroughly merited a full share of the commendation bestowed. The glee "When shall we three meet again", by the Regimental Glee Class, was very well rendered, and the 2nd, "Who will o'er the Downs so free", was equally a decided success and reflects great credit on the conductor. The double trapeze movement was superb, Messrs. Farr and Smith acquitting themselves admirably; their neat style of execution and the perfect confidence of each was much commended. The "sensational leap" at first produced a breathless silence, but when over the deafening applause was perfectly astonishing. "Ye gods" vociferating immensely. The clown ("from the") Medows gave laughable assistance to Messrs. F. and S. and had his share from "ye gods."

In the farce "Slasher," "Crasher," and "Brown" carried all before them and brought the house down with enormous applause frequently. Slasher, as usual, being well to the fore, though he was very ably backed up by "Crasher," "Brown," "John," and the "Ladies" and poor old "Blowhard," the amiable old father, creditably, he has a very fine voice, but wants practice in the use of it, as he is, I notice, liable to err occasionally. The other as one and all did their best to sustain the excellent character the amateurs had already gained for themselves by repeated success in their endeavours to amuse and entertain those who have hitherto supported them (and I hope will continue to do so) by honouring their performances with their presence.

The last night's (Thursday) performance was under the distinguished patronage of Brigadier General Bray, Commanding the Belgaum District, who not only honoured the theatre with his presence but testified his appreciation by frequently applauding the performers. The trapeze performers added another daring leap to their part and gained frantic applause. The success of the entertainment, as above stated, was certainly due to the strenuous exertions of the individuals alluded to, but this opportunity ought not to be allowed to pass without recording the excellent assistance afforded to "Shylock" by "Antonio", the "Duke" and "Bassanio" and the rest of the members of the Club.

Shylock, or the Merchant of Venice preserved—Dramatis Personæ.—"Duke of Venice," Lieut. Trant; "Prince of Morocco," Private Forsyth; "Prince of Arragon," Lieut. Chaband; "Antonio," Lieut. Thomson; "Bassanio," Lieut. Burrows; "Gratiano," J. Kelly; "Shylock," Lieut. Anson; "Tutal," J. Joyce; "Lorenzo," H. Jacobs; "Launcelot," F. Joseph; "Pump," Mr. Conroy (private); "Jessica," Miss Nelly Brandon; "Jessica," Miss Ellen Tenier. Glee—Glee Club. Grand Double Trapeze performance by Messrs. Smith and Farr. Clown, Mr. Meadows. Interval of 5 minutes. The farce entitled, Slasher and Crasher; characters—"Mr. Benjamin Blowhard," Corpl. Whitt; "Mr. Sampson Slesher," Lieut. Anson; Mr. Christopher Crasher," J. Jacobs; "Lieutenant Brown," Lieut. Trant; "John," J. Joyce; "Miss Dinah Blowhard," Miss Nelly Brandon; Miss Nelly Green.

MR. A. J. LEVEY'S BENEFIT.

THE season for which the Gaiety Company are engaged is drawing to a close, and the performance to-night will be the last of the "benefits," as H. M.'s Pinafore will be the last of the pieces to be produced. The theatre closes, so far as regards the present company, on Friday next, and the artists leave on the following day by the Speke Hall. Mr. Levey's name has not been so prominently before the public as those of the other members, and in the numerous critiques of the performances which have appeared, little mention has been made of the musical director, whose work however, has not only been most onerous, but probably the most laborious and difficult. "Licking into shape" such crude material as a band of Bombay Portuguese instrumental performers is neither the easiest nor pleasantest of tasks, and it speaks highly for Mr. Levey's tact, skill and experience, both as a musical conductor and a musician, that he should have succeeded in creating such a very fair orchestra, now much superior, indeed, to the kind usually heard at our theatres. Mr. Levey is well known in England as a violinist and musical conductor. At the Royalty Theatre he brought out the English adaptation of Lecocq's three-act Opera-Bouffe La Marjolaine, while musical director, and he is a member of the Philharmonic societies of London and most of the principal concert orchestras. He has frequently conducted at Riviere's concerts at the Crystal Palace, and was on tour for six months with the Pinafore company as well in Sullivan's Sorcerer, as a violinist. Mr. Levey, it may be added, came to Bombay entirely at Arthur Sullivan's recommendation. He will probably be glad to return after the experience he has had of the city, in connection with his own line. Before he goes home, however, it is to be hoped the public will not be backwards in recognising the exertions of Mr. Levey. H. M.'s Pinafore without the music would be nothing, while an indifferent orchestral accompaniment would mar the whole effect; but Mr. Levey's familiarity with the piece will ensure success. Combined with the acknowledged qualifications of the artists that appear, the long announced and long expected nautical piece, it may be predicted with confidence, will command an overflowing house to-night. A special attraction on the programme is the "Awfully Awful" of Miss Edith Wilson, between the "waits"—a song she renders in inimitable style—Mr. Levey accompanying on the violin.

MR. NAZIR AND HIS COMPANY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—As I find, on reflection, that I have committed a grave error of judgment and showed unquestionable bad taste in making the remarks I did on the occasion of my benefit, I unhesitatingly withdraw the same hereby, and apologise most sincerely to the artistes and the public.—

Yours truly,

Gaiety Theatre, April 19. C. S. NAZIR.

DOCTORS AND POISONS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY REVIEW."

SIR,—While a great stir is being made about the recent mistake as to whether the word "grans" should have been mistaken by Mr. Kemp's assistant for gramms, and while this unfortunate man is being pulled to pieces, don't you think it would do more real good if little of the excitement was diverted and the doctors brought to book. It must have struck most people, in reading the late evidence, that the remedies used were most violent. A man of full habit to be lashed with wet towels, water dashed on him with garden syringe, rubbed and generally knocked and walked about, all this going on for hours, is it not enough to turn one's bones and blood in a jelly? All our medical talent had full scope, but nothing could be done to save this life, from an overdose of morphia. The only conclusion one can come to is that there is something radically wrong with regard to medical matters when nothing can be administered as an antidote and such cruel remedies have to be resorted to without any good result—and no wonder! But is there no antidote? I believe there is. Once, and only once, through the evidence it was asked if camphor was administered; it was not, and here the most important subject dropped. Now, if camphor is considered by some to be an antidote for morphia, then why not let us at this juncture have a fair trial? We need not poison or kill another man for it, but if camphia has the same effect on a dog as on a man, then the antidote should have the same effect on both. Why not try? and have it tried out of the same solution which either the police or Mr. Kemp may still have. Some are of opinion that the result of camphor doses would be certain cure. Again, I say, a great movement should be made and the trial insisted on; but do not allow the trial to depend on the only one section of the medical creed. Let it be fair and open to all.

PORTUGUESE CITIZENS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR—With reference to a letter which appeared in your issue of the 14th instant, signed "A Portuguese," I am sorry to observe that the writer does not understand English. It was nowhere stated that those who attended the meeting at the theatre were Portuguese citizens; what was stated is that those who consented the meeting are not Portuguese citizens, and if he will carefully read the code or consult a lawyer, he will find that either by naturalization in a foreign country or by accepting without leave, appointments, honours, favours and pensions from a foreign Government, one ceases to be a Portuguese citizen and forfeits all rights, under the civil law of Portugal, and I submit that such a person has no right to sign a memorial to the King referring to the acts of his Consul, and much less to convene and preside at meetings of Portuguese subjects. It is all very well to talk of the meeting having been attended by some four hundred persons; it is not the quantity but the quality and rank of persons attending that one values most. I challenge the president of the said meeting to disprove, if he can, the fact that with the exception of three or four graduates and fifty to sixty clerks and a few bakers, tailors and shop-keepers, the rest were all butlers, cooks and topas boys.

Handbills were freely circulated in the market, and my own cook brought me one containing the advertisement for the meeting, and asked my leave to attend it, as he was informed it was for appointing his countryman, Drs. Cunha, or Gama, as Consul, who would charge no fees.

Is it not a fact that Dr. Lisboa, who was asked to attend and preside the said meeting did not, or declined to do so, notwithstanding that Mr. Gama left the theatre and personally went in search of the Doctor, keeping all those present waiting for more than half an hour? Why has the memorial not been published and circulated in Bombay? Was the so-called committee meeting a meeting of the memorialists or a public meeting? Are we to accept an appointment made at a private meeting held at a bakery as the acts of the Portuguese community? The meeting held at the theatre was nothing more than a meeting of a section, and an insignificant one, of the Portuguese community, which reckons among them many members of the Bar, priests, Police Magistrates, Justices of the Peace and doctors, besides Drs. Cunha and Gama, not one of whom attended, and why so? Because they are quite satisfied with their present Consul who has rendered important services to Portugal and for which he has been decorated with knighthoods of two orders, and nominated equerry to his most faithful Majesty the King of Portugal.—I enclose my card.

AN EXPLANATION.—Mr. Bomanjee Muncherjee writes to us with reference to the case in regard to which he was fined Rs. 26 for "importing arms without a license." He explains that the arms consisted of two old flint gunlocks sent out here as samples and were not ordered by him. There was, he says, no attempt at concealment as the locks were examined at the Custom House. Although they were imported without a licence they were imported as agent for a native indentor who held a licence.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, COLABA.—A correspondent, signing himself "A Member of the Congregation," writes:—"It would, I am sure, be a great boon to the congregation of St. John's Church, Colaba, in general and the soldiers in particular, if arrangements were made to have the Church better supplied with Prayer and Hymn Books, than is at present the case. The Cathedral is well provided, and there is no reason whatever why St. John's should not also be so. To say the least of it, it is both awkward and unpleasant for strangers, who come, to have to stay the whole service without books. This shortcoming has only to be brought to the knowledge of the Bishop to be speedily remedied."

THE MAHARAJA.—H. H. the Maharaja of Mysore returned to his capital from the Neilgherries on the evening of Friday last, the 9th instant. There is a report that His Highness will pay Bangalore a visit during the race week.—Bangalore Examiner.

They say he is alive still, and that he is leading a band of dacoits that are threatening the Nagar district. Night mail trains carry police constables by the dozen towards Rahuri where Major Daniell is encamped with a force of the military.—Deccan Star.

A MURDEROUS OUTRAGE.—Last Sunday Aurangabad city was in a state of commotion! A young Mahomedan, scarcely 20 summers old, defied the police to arrest him on suspicion for having stolen property. The inspector of police with his men tried to seize the alleged culprit, who swore vengeance against his arrestors; unfortunately his arrest by the Amin proved futile for a time
